Welcome Kiwanis Guests!

On behalf of the Kiwanis Club of Issaquah and The Issaquah Kiwanis Foundation, it is my pleasure to welcome you to the 35th Annual Issaquah Community Benefit Auction. We are delighted to have you join us in helping us help those in need in our community. You are an essential partner in helping Kiwanis achieve its mission. What is Kiwanis? Kiwanis is a global organization of volunteers dedicated to changing the world one child and one community at a time. All funds raised will help us fulfill this mission.

Our Kiwanis Club provides funds and volunteer service to over 40 community organizations and youth development activities. The needs of children and young adults are Priority #1 for Kiwanis. Last year the Kiwanis Club of Issaquah provided over $100,000 and more than 12,000 hours of volunteer service to our local community. Almost 90% of the money is used to support our community.

This year the organization benefiting from tonight's Fund-an-Item during the Live Auction is AtWork. Our Kiwanis Club started the predecessor of AtWork (CEI) in 1980. AtWork provides jobs and job training for adults with disabilities. In these difficult economic times, the State Legislature is cutting support of most social services. We hope you will give generously to this very worthy organization.

Please enjoy the great company, wonderful food and music tonight! We hope you find some items you like and have fun helping us celebrate 83 years of serving the Issaquah Community. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Glenn Hall

President 2011-2012
Kiwanis Club of Issaquah

Dear Auction Attendees,

Thank you for coming to the Kiwanis Club of Issaquah's 35th Annual Benefit Auction. We are glad that you are here! We know that you will have a good time. AtWork! is extremely proud to be the fund-an-item partner for this year's auction.

The Kiwanis Club of Issaquah has been one of AtWork!'s top supporters from our beginning 50 years ago, and we hope to continue that partnership into our next 50 years.

50 years ago some of you were a twinkle in your father's eye; many of you were youngsters going to schools that did not welcome kids with disabilities. Some were young adults experiencing the world of hippies and flower power, and others were the grown-ups of the day trying to make the world a better place.

We are grateful for those "grown-ups" who believed that people with disabilities have the capability to participate in society and to work. In the 1960's this was not a commonly held belief. Our enlightened founders knew that they could share their belief with others and change how society views its citizens with disabilities if they created a place where people with disabilities could discover their talents and pursue their dreams. They built it and the people came. Some of those founders were the same Kiwanians at the tables around you tonight. John Williams, a well known Kiwanian, was instrumental in launching Community Enterprises of Issaquah (the precursor to AtWork!). We are proud to support Kiwanis as they have supported us.

For 50 years, AtWork! has maintained our commitment to helping people with disabilities be productive, integrated and contributing members of their communities. AtWork! has remained a leader in our field, searching for the most innovative ways to help people with disabilities achieve equality through contribution.

We believe in the transformative power of employment. A good job has the power to transform a life of poverty and isolation into a life of contribution and dignity. We believe that it is not our job to "fix" the people we serve, but rather to help them discover their talents, interests and abilities, and to match them with an employer in the community who needs those same skills and interests.

Over the years, hundreds of people with disabilities have been served by AtWork!. Lives have been transformed; a new world of contribution, status and respect has replaced the old world of poverty, segregation and isolation. Today, AtWork! believes that everyone, regardless of disability, can work and deserves the supports that enable them to work.

Please continue to support us as we seek to innovate, provide better services, find more people jobs, and serve more people who need us. Thank you again for raising your paddle this evening and being part of this escalating transformation. We encourage you to partner with us to make the belief a reality for even more people in 2012.

Sincerely,

Paul Egly, Chair – AtWork! Board of Directors

Chris Brandt, CEO

Heads Or Tails Game – $10 to play

Everyone pays and everyone plays, but two lucky persons will win. First Place is a $200 gift certificate to the Redmond iPic Theater and Second Place is a $150 gift certificate to the Redmond iPic Theater, described below! Here's how to play:

- The emcee will ask that one person at each table become the "banker" and hold onto the envelope marked "HEADS OR TAILS". The banker will then collect tickets from each person at the table who wishes to play with their bidder number written clearly on it.
- After the tickets have been placed in each envelope, the bankers will bring the envelopes up to the emcee. After all the envelopes have been collected, the game begins.

- Everyone who put tickets into the envelopes will be asked to stand. The emcee will have a coin in his/her hand.
- Before the emcee flips the coin, those who are standing must decide if the coin will come up “heads” or “tails.”
- Those who think the coin will come up “heads” must place their hands on their head. Those who believe the coin will come up “tails” must put their hands on their derriere!
- When the guests have placed their hands appropriately, the emcee tosses the coin.
- If the coin comes up “heads,” for example, those with their hands on their heads remain standing. Those who made the wrong choice must sit down; they are now out of the game.
- The placing of hands and tossing of the coin continues until there are only a few people left standing. Those individuals will then be asked to go to the stage and continue playing until two people are left standing.
- The last two people standing win the game, however; there will be one more coin toss to determine which one is the last person standing and that person wins the gift certificate of their choice.
- In the event of a tie, the game must continue with the two remaining participants until one person finally wins or the participants decide to share the prize.
